

Mini-Task #9: Theme-Based Summary Frame

Module Task Prompt:

After reading "Raymond's Run" by Toni Cade Bambara, write a literary analysis in which you explain how the author uses a recurring character across a series of episodes in the text to convey a theme. Support your discussion with evidence from the texts.

The title of this text is _____ and it was written by _____.

An important character in the story is _____.
(Name one of the main characters.)

In the story _____
(Use key details to describe an event in the story that impacted this character.)

_____ responded to this event by (Name the character.)

_____.
(Use key details to describe this character's response to the event you identified.)

Another event in the story was _____.
(Use key details to describe another event in the story that impacted this character.)

When this happened _____ responded by (Character's name)

_____.
(Use key details to describe this character's response to the event you identified.)

This shows _____.
(Use key details to describe how this response shows how the character has changed.)

The development of this character over the course of the story reveals a theme of _____ because

(Describe one of the themes that the character's development reveals.)

_____.
(Explain how the character's responses connect to the theme you identified.)